Thanksgiving

The single most important blessing for which Americans should be grateful in 1964 is that they live in a land where there is strong provision for the peaceful transition of government.

Twice during the past year, the machinery which operates to permit the orderly transfer of authority was set in motion - once because of a tragedy and once because of the peoples' will.

Prayers of Thanksgiving offered tomorrow should recognize that it is because of this single national blessing that so many individuals can sit down to a table laden with the bounty of a fruitful year. In some lands the harvest would have been revolution and economic upheaval.

It is 343 years since the Pilgrims served to Indians and Colonists the feast which inspired the proclamation of a national day of Thanksgiving.

Most modern Americans are less aware than those hard-pressed settlers of the worth of daily survival.

But they have even more reason for gratitude.

• As a further move to cleaning up the dump, Town Manager Richard Bowen has made plans for a trench system of operation. One huge trench has already been dug and the fill salvaged will be saved to cover trash as it is deposited. Bowen wants to cut down on the number of dumping sites open at any single time which would eventually permit a neater looking land-fill area.

Teachers Reject Salary Proposal Erickson's Compromise, $500 Across The Board

The Andover Teachers Assoc. charged Tuesday that they had been excluded from participation in the development of 1965 pay proposals, and in a strongly-worded statement warned that "divisiveness, tensions and conflict" could result if staff members are not involved in the formulating of future pay policies.

Teachers attending the open School Committee session were ready to scrap the pay proposals of both their own sub-committee on salaries and the S. C. sub-committee to gain immediate approval for what they clearly accepted as a compromise - the $500 across the board increases recommended by Supt. Edward L. Erickson.

The Andover Warriors will meet the North Andover Football team on the North Andover High School field at 10:30 a.m. Thanksgiving Day

Printed here is the full statement presented at Tuesday's School Committee meeting by Richard E. Neal, president of the Andover Teachers Assoc.

"The Andover Teachers Association wishes to express its deep concern over the reluctance on the part of the Sub-Committee of the School Committee to cooperate with the Salary Committee of the Association toward the end that would provide a salary structure for the professional staff which is acceptable to both parties.

"The Andover Teachers Association, acting in good faith, submitted its proposed salary scale for consideration in June. No further meetings were arranged between the two groups until November at which time the Sub-Committee presented its proposal which was in its final form to be presented to the School Committee six days later for possible adoption. The request of the Teachers Association for a postponement of this presentation and for a further meeting was denied at this time but was accepted the next day.

"At the third and final meeting the Sub-Committee refused to accept the Teacher Association's arguments raised over several items of their scale. As it became apparent that the Sub-Committee would not accept the arguments Committeeman William Doherty moved on-the-spot approval of Erickson's pay plan over the protest of Chairman John S. Sullivan who took the position that the work of both sub-committees deserved thorough consideration. Doherty and Davey supported the motion; Sullivan, Sherman and Moody defeated it.

Doherty, responding to the will of the teachers, had succeeded earlier in bringing the superintendent's recommendation to the floor despite the fact there was some committee feeling that it should be held for presentation at a later School Committee work session.

Presenting their sub-committee report to the parent committee, Barbara Moody and Robert Sherman proposed that Andover bachelor degree minimums be brought in line with the new state law requiring that $5,000 be the base pay in this category. They would set the bachelor's maximum at $8,000, up from the present $7,600.

The Teachers Assoc. proposed bachelor minimums and maximums of $5,300 and $8,500, taking the position that comparative pay scales used by Moody and Sherman do not reflect pay raises already agreed upon in some of the communities with which we try to compete.

No estimate of the total cost of the scale suggested by the Teachers Assoc. was presented, but figures setting the cost of the other two plans in excess of $80,000 annually were given.

Craft Exhibit Shows Non-New England Work

An exhibit that presents the work of 20 non-New England craftsmen in wood, leather, textiles, ceramics, enamels and precious metals
is currently at Addison Gallery, Phillips Academy.

Organized in conjunction with the New England Crafts Council and with the assistance of Paul Smith of the Museum of Contemporary Crafts, New York City, the exhibition has been designed to point up trends in the contemporary crafts movement outside the New England area.

The artist craftsmen represented are:

Ceramics: Clayton Bailey, University City, Mo.; Robert Sperry, Bothell, Wash.; Toshiko Takaezu,
Clinton, N. Y.

Textiles: Mary Walker Phillips,
New York City; Claire Zeisler,
Chicago, Ill.; Ted Hallman, Sou-derton, Pa.; Janice Bornt, and Kay Sekamachi of Berkeley, Calif.; Zelda Strecker, St. Charles, Ill.

Wood: Wendell Castle, Rochester, N. Y.; Wharton Esherick, Paoli, Pa.; Donald McKinley, Way-
land, N. Y.; Robert Stocksdales, Berkeley, Calif.

Enamels: J. Ormond Sanderson,
Durham, N. C.; Kaye Denning, Locust Valley, N. Y.; June Schwartz, Sausalito, Calif.

Jewelry: Stanley Lechtzin, Philadelphia, Pa.; Robert Dhaemers, Oakland, and Merry Renk, San Francisco, Calif.

Most of the objects in this exhibition, which continues until Dec.
27, are for sale.

The Addison Gallery is open to the public without charge Mondays through Saturdays from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.; Sundays 2:30 to 5 p.m.

SALARY QUESTION STILL UNDECIDED

Moody and Sherman said that the increases they propose for teachers and administrators would add $81,794 to the annual budget, a variable however since the number and pay level of teachers on staff varies from year to year.

Supt. Erickson said that the full-year cost of his plan would be $100,700. Neither figure includes the normal increment (longevity) increases.

For the 1965 budget, which will cover teachers pays just from September to December, the cost of the Sherman-Moody plan would run $27,265. The Erickson plan would add $33,481 to the 1965
budget.

The conflict between the two sub-committees is not basically one of dollars and cents, but hinges on what the teachers group considers inequities affecting long-term teachers.

They object to the healthy rate of increases prescribed for new teachers and what they consider a rapid leveling at the maximum end of the scale. They are particularly opposed to the addition of another interval, lengthening the time required to reach the maximum level.

Despite the fact that Sherman and Moody said that 12 intervals is the average required by the 48 school systems with which Andover attempts to compare itself, Richard Neal, president of the Teachers Assoc., said "It is important for teachers to get to the maximum, and the maximum should not constantly be pushed away."

The two said early increases for teachers with master's degrees should serve as an incentive, encouraging more teachers to do graduate work. They report that only about one-third of Andover's teachers hold master's and doctor's degrees while many school systems attract as many as 50 percent of their teachers from this category.

Teachers Association representatives took the position that the scale as proposed would have the opposite effect.

Sherman and Moody also defended the rate of increases for newcomers to the system on the ground that the base pay was set by the state at a level ($5,000) higher than they would have elected to write into the program.

The two sub-committee members appeared stunned at the formal attack on their role in preparation of a pay program for the School Committee.

Sherman expressed surprise at what he called "the unprofessional" tone of the statement.

YOUR Pharmacist SPEAKS

by: Paul Upson, R. Ph.

Good news for compulsive nibblers is the thinking among some dietary experts that snacking six to ten times a day has certain health advantages even though the same kind and amount of food is eaten.

It seems that stoking up the body with copious amounts of food causes it to handle normal foods in an abnormal manner. Tests performed both with human and animal subjects disclosed that two or three large meals daily produced twice the amount of fat and seven times as much hardening of the arteries. Even protein turned to fat when taken in large quantity as compared to a bit at a time.

Whether you're a nibbler or a three squares a day advocate, you'll like the quick, courteous service at SHAW-SHEEN PHARMACY's prescription counter. Prescriptions are a specialty at SHAW-SHEEN PHARMACY, Shaw-sheen Square. Free prescription delivery.

THIS WEEK'S HOUSEHOLD HINT: A diluted chlorine solution helps remove odor in bottles and jars. Allow solution to stand in bottles for a few hours, then rinse with hot water.

LET'S DO IT AGAIN -- Shown is the kind of playing that helped Andover Warriors to a 24-12 victory over Methuen Saturday, and the sort that should give them a boost in the Thanksgiving Day game with North Andover. In the left photo a key block by an unidentified teammate permits John McMahon to spring loose for a 45 yard gain. Brought down on the Methuen two yard line, (right) McMahon smashed through two plays later to make Andover's second touchdown. (Cole)

PAY COMMITTEE IS CRITICIZED

made by the Association for its proposal, two compromise proposals were advanced for the consideration of the Sub-Committee. Neither of these proposals was acceptable to the Sub-Committee and in fact they were not deemed worthy of discussion by the Sub-Committee. The meeting ended with no agreement on the salary scale.

"The relationship between the Andover Teachers Association and the Andover School Committee has, in the past, been of the highest order and has been so recognized throughout the Commonwealth. The Andover Teachers Association has, at all times, sought to assist and support the School Committee in all matters.

"In the past the School Committee accepted the principle of teacher participation through elected representatives in the development of policies and procedures of common concern, including salary and other conditions of professional service.

"The Andover Teachers Association feels that the present Sub-Committee failed to establish a climate conducive to dispassionate mutual consideration of common problems and goals; failed to cooperate with the local association and administration in joint study, interpretation, and analysis of pertinent data leading to decisions and policy and failed to recognize the educational competencies of the members of the teaching profession in Andover.

"The Andover Teachers Association recognizes that the members of the Andover School Committee and the members of the teaching profession have the common aim of providing the best possible educational opportunity for the children of Andover. Assuming this commonality of goals and interests and assuming that service to children is the paramount consideration and that adequate stimulating salary provisions for teachers are means to that end, we believe that there must be shared responsibility in policy development and accept this as a professional concept.

"We do not assume that the right to participate in developing a program implies the right to make decisions. Although we seek a consensus of opinion between the professional staff and school committee, we recognize the responsibility and legal right of the school committee to make decisions.

"We believe, however, that arbitrary exercise of unilateral authority by the school committee will have a weakening effect. Unless appropriate and acceptable means of involving staff members in developing policy that directly affects them are employed, divisiveness, tensions, and conflict that will impair the schools and adversely affect the education of the children of Andover may result."

Equal Chance League Topic

The League of Women Voters will launch a two-year investigation of the problem of greater development of human resources at Dec. 1 and 3 meetings.

The local league will be participating in a national league attempt to evaluate the equality of opportunity for education and employment in the United States.

This first round of meetings will include a broad definition of the scope of the problems of poverty and inequality of opportunity, illustrated by a variety of case histories, and a brief debate on the relative merits of government vs private solution for these problems. Later in the spring the committee, headed by Mrs. Robert Lloyd, will deal more specifically with existing anti-poverty legislation.

The Tuesday and Thursday morning meetings will be held at 9:45 at Graham House, Phillips Academy, on Wheeler Street. Baby sitting will be available at 4 Morton St. for the Thursday morning session. Tuesday evening the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Lincoln Fuge, 10 Porter Rd., and on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Crane, 18 William St. The evening meetings are scheduled for 7:45.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Batchelder and their family of Argilla Rd. are spending Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Batchelder of Greenwich, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Lewis of Kirkland Dr. attended the Harvard-Yale Football Game played in Cambridge Saturday.

HOLIDAY BIRD BONES DANGEROUS FOR PETS

According to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, turkey bones are bad for pets. The cooked bones of any holiday bird — turkey, duck and goose — are brittle and splintery. If given to the family pet, any one of these slivers of bone may penetrate the internal organs through which the bone passes, causing pain and perhaps, death, the society says. Considered almost as dangerous are the fat-soaked pieces of twine used to truss the bird.

TOMATOES FROZEN BY NEW PROCESS

Until recently it was always believed that tomatoes could not be frozen successfully.

Developed now, however, is a liquid nitrogen-freezing method which is being used not only on tomato slices, but on other fruits and vegetables which have been problem items for commercial freezers.

The process is more costly than the air blast and other techniques, but improves green beans, strawberries, asparagus
and melons, for example.

BETTY'S NOTES

There always seems to be an element of puzzle when someone decides to redecorate and refurnish a room. There are so many possibilities — where does one begin? Since very few rooms are alike, there is no "pat" answer to any given problem; besides, who'd want a room just like somebody else's?

There are certain basic considerations which will help you in planning. You'll want to: 1. Establish a center of interest. Dramatize one spot in your room and arrange furniture to draw attention to it. A fireplace, a view or perhaps a picture arrangement. 2. Note the paths that room traffic takes. These are the obvious paths by which people get in and out of the room. Try to avoid arranging furniture so that traffic lanes will disturb conversational groupings. 3. Consider scale and balance.
Plan furnishings so that chairs, tables and accessories are the right size for each other. Balance the room so that heavy pieces are not all in one spot, the light ones in another.

Instead of shoving a big sofa around, shift a bit of paper! Make yourself a floor plan on a piece of graph paper indicating windows, and doors and the direction in which doors open. Then make paper patterns of the furniture you plan to use. You'll find it easy to try many variations, giving proper weight to the considerations above. It's practical and fun, too. Of course, if we can be of help, we'll be happy to give you the benefit of our experience. See you here next week.

Five Students Commended

Five Andover High School seniors have been honored for high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring.

Commented are Rosaire
Dubrule, Laura Frishman, Carol
Eastman, Nedra Sanfilippo and William Arrand.

Principal Philip Wormwood reports that each student endorsed by his school receives a formal letter of commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship
Corp.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship
Corporation, said:

"Letters of commendation are being awarded to 38,000 students throughout the country in recognition of their outstanding performance on the qualifying test. We wish to call attention in this way to their high academic achievement.

"Although they did not reach the status of semifinalists in the current Merit Program, they are very capable students. The semifinalists and commended students together constitute about 2 percent of all high school seniors. This certainly signifies noteworthy accomplishment by all these bright young people.

The National Merit Scholarship
Corporation gives recognition to two groups of students who achieve high scores on the NMSQT. The semifinalist group is composed of the highest-scoring students in each state and in U. S. territories.
Some 14,000 semifinalists take a second examination to establish further their eligibility to become finalists and receive consideration for Merit Scholarships. To increase their opportunities to obtain financial assistance if needed, the Merit Corporation sends the names, home addresses, test scores, and proposed college majors of all commended students to the two colleges they indicated as their first and second choices at the time they took the qualifying test.

The Commended students were among the high school juniors in approximately 17,000 schools who took the NMSQT last March.

opportunities."

• School Building Chairman
Robert McIntyre Tuesday denied earlier reports that the School Building Assistance Commission has "turned down preliminary plans" for the new high school.
This was the claim of Robert Neikirk, president of the Taxpayers Assoc. who was among those attending a conference at commission office in Boston Friday. McIntyre said that revised educational specks, not plans were presented to William Black at the SBAC conference. Black made some suggestions, among them one for possible grouping of large instruction rooms where, with folding doors, they could provide for audiences of 400-500. The state official apparently sees such a move as a partial solution to the
"no auditorium" problem.

HOWE

The first Thanksgiving was celebrated by the Pilgrims in gratitude to God for an abundant harvest. Today, as never before in this country, we are blessed with an abundance of material goods. But beyond this we have the greater wealth of FREEDOM...to worship, to think, and to speak as our conscience dictates. We truly have reason to be thankful.

Townsmen Editorial Thoughts

A Time To Talk Turkey

New England was hit last week in its economic solar plexis.

Three communities long conditioned to life with a defense economy crutch were told that they would have to find fresh means of survival.

For Portsmouth, Springfield and Bangor it means a long struggle toward a new way of existence, particularly for the New Hampshire port which has been dominated by a naval shipyard for 164 years.

Unfortunately the impact of the scheduled shutdowns cannot be neatly confined behind municipal borders. The fallout will create additional regional problems of employment and industrial development.

For all of this, we should have been prepared. Defense Secretary McNamara's announcement that additional plans to phase out U. S. defense installations would include some from New England was not unexpected. It was anticipated, feared and fought well in advance — even by lobbyists for some facilities so far untouched.

The cries of outrage from municipal, state and congressional officials may be nothing more than political baying. But if it is a cover for leadership unwilling and unprepared for the challenge of a new kind of military technology and for adjustment to a peacetime economy, it is regrettable. This is no time for whining.

The secretary's decision affects 95 U. S. defense installations; it means headaches and heartaches for many communities outside New England. But it is the kind of economy move prudent men, many of them New Englanders, have been urging upon the federal government. And it is a bitter pill that must be shared.

When those hardest hit ask what it is they can be thankful for on Thanksgiving, the answers should be obvious.

1. They can be thankful that phase-outs are planned instead of overnight shutdowns.
2. They can be thankful that the power of the federal government will be used in relocation of displaced workers and in the creation of new jobs.
3. They can be thankful that the labor pool resulting from layoffs will be one of skilled workers, capable of shifting or training to shift to new kinds of production.
4. They can be thankful for employment security laws which provide for a period of partial support to cushion the blow to individual families.

Perhaps, first of all, they should be thankful for a heritage of Yankee ingenuity.

Thanksgiving is an annual reminder that early settlers took nothing for granted, least of all security. It was their very willingness to be flexible that was their strength.

The same quality applied to modern situations could make this region into a laboratory for the solution of the kind of economic problems that beset a nation determined to be both peaceful and prosperous.

However, Ballardvale will be open on Friday, Nov. 27 from 2-5 and from 6-8.

Vacation hours in the Children's Room have been extended to offer wanted service to Andover young people on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 27 and 28. On those days their room will be open from 10-12 and 2-6.

Hours in the adult library will be as usual on Friday and Saturday. Following the Thanksgiving closing the adult section opens at 10 Friday morning and remains open until 9 that evening. On Saturday the Main Reading room and adult section will stay open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Great Books December Schedule

For its meeting December 1, the Great Books Group will consider Aristotle's ETHICS. Usually there is a holiday interval of a month or so when Great Books meetings are suspended, but this year the group wishes to take up Lucretius' ON THE NATURE OF THINGS in a special meeting which will be held at 7:30 on Tuesday, Dec. 15 at the library. This will be the last session for 1964, and will complete the study of the Roman authors of great books.

The first discussion of the new year will occur on Tuesday, Jan. 5 at the usual time in the library. The subject will shift in time and place to the early Christian world with study of St. Augustine's CONFESSIONS. Augustine (354-430) was Bishop of Hippo in Africa and the Confessions are autobiographical.

Littlest Listeners

The Ballardvale Littlest Listeners group meets with Mrs. Martha MacCausland at 10 a.m. on Dec. 3. At that time Mrs. MacCausland plans to introduce her young listeners to the words and tunes of well-known Mother Goose nursery rhymes. Both listening and participation will be on the program.

Story Hours

On Dec. 3 at 3:30 those who plan to attend story hour will have the chance to see three films for school age children. The program will be: Pig Tales: The Legend of Johnny Appleseed; and Harold and the Purple Crayon. Meet in the Children's room.

Favorite Books

What is so rare as an unforgettable book? Certainly such a book is a memorable event in anyone's life and surely such books are come upon so infrequently that when one is discovered, the occasion is gladly shared among readers of similar likes.

Miss Miriam Putnam has selected five dozen of her favorites during the past twenty-five years. As she remarked, "for one reason or another — illumination of a problem, emotional impact, good writing — these books have impressed me."

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — November, 1889
The Y.P.S.C.E. of Free Church has contributed a handsome robe for the comfort in travelling of a missionary in Michigan.

It has been the habit of boys going to the Haggitt's Pond reservoir, especially on Sundays of throwing stones into it. Now it is considerable trouble to clear out the reservoir, and there is also danger of damaging the pipe there. These boys better take warning, and cease this foolish amusement, or there may be trouble.

The South Church building is being wired by the Holtzer-Cable Co. and the Electric Co. will furnish light for the 130 incandescent lamps to be placed.

Two Lawrence gunners made the West Parish woods resound with their guns and dogs to the disturbance of last Sunday's quiet. They paid $3 and costs before Judge Poor last Monday. The ordinary nuisances are receiving the right kind of attention these latter days.

Prof. Tucker of Andover limits the original thinkers of America to three names: Jonathan Edwards, Benjamin Franklin and Nathaniel Hawthorne.

MRS. EDWIN F. STANTON

The November Club of Andover held its regular meeting Monday, November 30.

Mrs. Edwin F. Stanton, wife of the former Ambassador of the United States to Thailand, will speak on the subject "Memories of a Diplomat's Wife." Stanton served 25 years in the State Department Foreign Service. These years were interrupted in 1941 by internment in a Japanese prison camp. Subsequently, he received the appointment as Ambassador to Thailand.

Mrs. Stanton shared many years in Asia with her husband, and presents from first-hand experience the dramatic story of the obstacles and rewards of a diplomat's wife. She has a deep interest in Asia and the power now being assumed by Asian women.

From her residency in Thailand, she has acquired considerable knowledge of Thai customs and culture, in particular the fascinating Royal Thai dance drama.

Andover Recreation Center

The Andover Recreation Center has come a long way from the days when it was founded. Originally on Essex Street, it had only four lanes. But that was way back in 1916. When it moved to its 34 Park Street Address, there were eight lanes, billiards, and ping pong. In the 1963 renovation of the building you see above, the total number of lanes went to fifteen, complete air conditioning was added, as well as four new billiard tables installed. In 1956, the alleys were made fully automatic. Now under the capable management of Edward Jones, an Avon Street, Andover, resident, many new programs have been instituted. In addition to league bowling, there is a pony league for the youngsters on Saturday mornings, at greatly reduced rates, of course. Father Keyes, of Saint Robert Bellarmine Church also has a junior league at 9:00 A.M. Saturdays. For health and fun, no sport quite beats bowling. If you or your group is interested in league bowling, call 475-9706, and all the information necessary will be supplied.

Double Protection

Double beauty, with glass furniture tops. For new furniture or old, glass tops are the smart way to reveal, yet protect, the loveliness of fine wood. Glass is impervious to the everyday hazards that mar tables, desk, vanity and dresser tops. Glass isn't damaged by moisture "rings". Spilled alcohol, juices, ink — all wipe off without a stain. Forgotten cigarettes leave no permanent marks. With glass tops, your furniture stays unmarked from scratches and chips. Where do you find out more about putting glass tops on YOUR furniture? Why, from George Dribin, at the City Glass Company, corner of West and Tremont Street, Lawrence. And a little tip from Mister Dribin . . . if your table, dresser or furniture top is ALREADY, burned scratched or nicked, a mirror top hides the tell-tale wear.

Holiday Treat

When the season for wassailing rolls around, we are well into our egg-nog season. You probably buy that stuff that's shipped in from heaven knows where in a wax container that is leaking by the time the trip is over. BUT! This is not necessary, for right in our own area, the richest, freshest, best-tasting egg-nog is being made right now, as it has since the 1890's. Right! FINDEISEN'S FARMS, Inc., the milk folks. For the regular route customers of Findeisen's Dairy, there is no problem, they just leave a note and they have egg-nog. If you would like the best tasting egg-nog and you're not a route customer, call 687-7178, and you'll have your egg-nog, too. It is also available in your local grocery store. If it isn't, don't change stores, just tell the manager you want FRESH egg-nog — — — Findeisen's Egg-Nog.

Backing is becoming a lost skill among many motorists. Reason, modern improvements in highways, approaches, parking areas, and driveways, have eliminated many "back-up" problems. Still it pays to be a safe and skillful backer-upper when necessity arises. Why not take a few minutes to practice backing now and then? Helps to make you a better all around driver.
